

Adaptive Technology

All Library computers feature Big Shot, providing screen magnification up to 200%. Click the link at the top of the home page.

State-of-the-art, Adaptive Technology computer workstations with scanners are located on the 3rd floor of the Downtown Library. The accessible features of these computers include:

- 19" monitors
- Roller trackballs
- Keyboards with extra-large letters
- ZoomText magnifies the onscreen view and can read onscreen text aloud
- OpenBook software uses a scanner to read a printed page aloud through headphones
- JAWS (Job Access With Speech) reads onscreen text aloud through headphones
- Also available:
- Color video magnification enlarges print (books, letters, etc.)
- A Braille embosser prints documents in Braille (call for information: 682-5450, press 2)
